Air Tank Price in Brazil 2024: Cost per Piece, Quotation & Bulk Deals

Need to buy an air tank in Brazil but confused about prices? Whether you're a contractor, factory owner, or DIY enthusiast, understanding the cost of air tanks and how to get the best deals is critical. Let's break down current market rates, supplier options, and hidden costs you must know.

What's the Average Air Tank Cost in Brazil?

In 2024, basic 10-liter steel air tanks start at R$350-500 (US$70-100), while industrial-grade 100-liter models range from R$2,800-4,500 (US$560-900). Prices vary by:

Material (steel vs. aluminum)

Pressure capacity (150 PSI vs. 200 PSI+)

Brand (Brazilian-made Schulz vs. imported DeWalt)

Brazil vs. China: Why Local Prices Surprise Buyers

Brazil's 14.7% import tax on compressed air equipment pushes up costs. A Chinese-made 50L tank priced at US$300 in Shanghai becomes R$2,100+ after taxes - 22% pricier than local brands like Taurus. Still, some buyers report 18% savings by bulk-ordering from reliable suppliers like CompAir Brasil with annual contracts.

3 Pro Tips to Slash Your Air Tank Budget

Request quotations with Brazil's "Tributacao Verde" tax breaks for eco-certified models

Compare price per piece from 3+ suppliers on MercadoLivre vs. direct factory deals

Opt for steel tanks - they cost 30% less than aluminum but need 2X/year maintenance

Where to Buy: Trusted Suppliers vs. Hidden Traps

Amazon Brazil lists 5-star air tank suppliers like Fortgas (R$899 for 20L tanks). But in Q1 2024, 12% of buyers complained about inflated shipping fees in Sao Paulo. For large orders, factories like Schulz Compressores offer free delivery on 10+ units with 5-year warranties.

Always check certification tags from INMETRO - uncertified tanks sold on OLX caused 7 workplace accidents last year. Now you're ready to negotiate like a pro. Start by downloading our free Buying Guide for Air Tanks in Brazil with updated price lists and customs fee calculators.
