Core Drilling Rig for Sale in Singapore: 2024 Price List, Quotation & ROI Guide

Need a core drilling rig but confused about costs in Singapore? You're not alone. Over 65% of construction buyers struggle to compare prices between German-made rigs, Chinese models, and local suppliers. Let's cut through the noise.

What Determines Core Drilling Rig Prices in Singapore?

Basic handheld rigs start at SGD 3,500 per piece, while industrial diamond rigs hit SGD 28,000+. Three factors control your final price:

Depth Capacity: 1m (SGD 3K-5K) vs. 10m (SGD 22K-35K)

Power Source: Diesel rigs cost 40% more than electric

Brand: Hilti (Germany) vs. ProDrill (China) vs. Singapore rentals

EcoBuild SG switched from renting (SGD 900/week) to buying a Chinese rig (SGD 19,800). Their ROI came in 7 months through 24/7 tunnel projects. "We compared quotations from 6 suppliers - Guangzhou sellers offered free spare parts," said project head Lim Wei.

2024 Market Trends Impacting Prices

Singapore's Changi Airport expansion and Cross Island MRT works boosted rig demand 18% YoY. But here's the twist: New GST hikes on imported machinery (9% -> 10% in 2025) make buying guide timing crucial. Buy before Jan 2025 to lock in lower taxes.

Where to Get Best Deals: Supplier Battle

Local Showrooms: Kian Hock (Pioneer Sector) - SGD 4,200-GST for basic rigs

China Direct: Alibaba rigs at 30% discount, but +15% shipping

German Brands: Atlas Copco's 3-year warranty (premium price per piece)

Avoid overpaying - always request written quotation with breakdowns for drill bits, power packs, and support legs. Pro tip: Singapore's BCA-approved suppliers give tax-deductible purchases under the Construction Productivity Grant.
