Why Kenya's DTH Rig Buyers Face Pricing Confusion

Over 200 Kenyan water drilling contractors reported 3 key challenges in our 2023 survey:

Hidden import costs adding 15-25% to China/Turkey supplier prices

Local resellers marking up DTH rig prices by 30-50%

No transparency in after-sales support or ROI timelines

Case Study: Nairobi Drilling Company Cuts Costs by 22%

Mwangi Drilling Ltd. saved $48,000 by buying directly from a Chinese DTH rig manufacturer instead of Nairobi middlemen. Their $175,000 rig (depth 300m) now drills 25% faster, recovering costs in 14 months through rural water projects.

1. Buy during China's export seasons (March-April or October-November) for 5-8% discounts.
2. Negotiate bundled deals: Get free spare hammers or compressor units.
3. Verify tax exemptions: Kenya's Big Four Agenda waives VAT for water drilling equipment in drought-prone counties.
