Drilling Bits for Sale in India 2025: Price List, Quotation & Supplier Deals

How much does a drilling bit cost in India? If you're planning a construction, mining, or oil/gas project, this question directly impacts your budget. Prices range from INR2,500 ($30) for basic rotary bits to over INR41,500 ($500) for premium diamond-coated designs. Let's break down the latest price per piece trends, wholesale options, and how to secure the best ROI.

Current Drilling Bit Costs in India (2025 Data)

India's drilling bit market grew by 12% in 2024 due to infrastructure projects and coal mining expansions. Here's a snapshot:

Rotary Cone Bits: INR2,500 - INR10,000/piece

PDC Bits: INR20,000 - INR41,500/piece

Diamond Core Bits: INR33,000 - INR82,000/piece

Hyderabad-based Swastik Mining saved 25% on a coal project by ordering 150 PDC bits from China's Sinocoredrill Group. Bulk purchases often cut costs by 15-30% compared to retail.

Why Prices Vary Across Suppliers?

Three factors affect your quotation:

Material Quality: German tungsten carbide costs 20% more than Indian alternatives but lasts 3x longer

Import Taxes: Chinese suppliers like Siton Machinery offer 12% GST discounts for B2B buyers

Customization: Thread connections for oil rigs add INR5,000-8,000/bit

How to Buy Drilling Bits in India: 2025 Buying Guide

Follow this PAS formula for smart purchases:

Problem: 68% of buyers overpay due to hidden transport/import fees.

Agitate: A Pune construction firm lost INR6 lakh by choosing the "cheapest" local supplier (bits failed in 2 weeks).
