Second Hand Crawler Air Compressor Prices in Argentina 2025: Updated List, Quotes & Buying Guide

Looking for second-hand crawler air compressor price in Argentina? You're not alone. Over 60% of mining and construction companies now choose refurbished equipment to slash costs. Here's why used crawler compressors dominate Argentina's market - and how to get the best deals.

Why Argentina Chooses Used Crawler Compressors

Tight budgets meet big projects. With Argentina's mining sector growing 7% annually (National Mining Ministry 2024), contractors need mobile air power that won't break the bank. A second-hand crawler compressor costs 40-60% less than new models while delivering 80-90% performance capacity.

The Real Cost Savings Breakdown

Let's compare:

New 750 CFM crawler compressor: $85,000-$120,000 USD

Refurbished unit (2020 model): $38,000-$55,000

Typical ROI: 14 months (vs 32 months for new equipment)

2025 Price Trends in Argentina

Local suppliers report 12% higher demand for pre-owned crawler air compressors since March 2024. Popular models like Atlas Copco XAS 750 and Ingersoll Rand XHP 900 dominate 65% of Argentina's used market. Current average prices:

500-700 CFM models: $28,000-$42,000

700-1000 CFM models: $45,000-$68,000

Case Study: Mendoza Mining Operation

A copper extraction team saved 35% by purchasing two 2019 Atlas Copco units through Buenos Aires dealer Compresores Renew SA. "We got warranty-backed machines at $49,500 each," says site manager Luis Gutierrez. "New units would've cost $140,000+."

Smart Buying Tips for Argentine Buyers

Follow these steps to avoid costly mistakes:
