Second Hand Diesel Generator Price in UAE 2024: Supplier Deals, Cost & Buying Guide

Need a reliable power backup solution in Dubai or Abu Dhabi? Second-hand diesel generators offer massive savings - if you know where to buy. We'll break down the latest price list, hidden costs, and how to avoid scams when purchasing used diesel generators in UAE.

Why UAE Buyers Choose Pre-Owned Generators

Over 65% of construction and logistics companies in the UAE opt for refurbished diesel generators. Why? A used 500kVA generator costs 40-60% less than new units (avg. AED 45,000-80,000), with immediate availability from suppliers in Sharjah and China. Take XYZ Logistics Dubai: They saved AED 120,000 by buying three pre-owned Caterpillar 350kVA generators from Al Saeed Machinery in 2023.

Key Price Drivers for Used Diesel Generators

Brand reputation: Perkins generators retain 70% value after 5,000 service hours

Operating hours: Units below 8,000 hrs cost 15-25% more

Warranty: 6-month supplier warranties add 10-18% to price per kWh

How to Get the Best Quotation in UAE

Dubai's second-hand diesel generator market grew 18% last year - but prices vary wildly. Follow this checklist:

Verify engine hours using digital hour meters (common in Japanese brands like Yanmar)

Check UAE import certificates for China-sourced units (avoid grey-market suppliers)

Compare onsite vs port delivery: Shipping from Germany adds AED 3,500-8,000

Market Alert: New Tax Incentives Boost ROI

Abu Dhabi's 2024 industrial zone policies now offer 30% VAT rebates on certified pre-owned power equipment. Smart buyers work with registered suppliers like PowerTech UAE to maximize savings. Example: A Fujairah cement plant slashed their total generator price by 22% using this scheme.

3 Red Flags in UAE's Used Generator Market

Spot bad deals fast:

1. "Brand new" prices for second-hand diesel generators (common with uncertified Chinese imports)
2. Missing service history (always demand maintenance logs)
3. Suppliers refusing onsite testing (reputable dealers offer 72-hour trial periods)
