Second Hand Four Wheel Screw Diesel Compressor Price in Bangladesh 2024: Quotes, Supplier Deals & ROI Guide

Why Buy Used? Save 40% on Industrial Equipment Today

Need reliable air compression for construction/mining projects in Bangladesh but stressed about price per piece? You're not alone. 68% of contractors now choose second-hand four wheel screw diesel compressors to beat rising equipment costs.

The Real Cost of New vs. Used Equipment

A brand-new Chinese-made screw compressor sells for $24,000-$35,000. But inspect this Dhaka-based 2022 market data:

Second-hand 2019 models: $11,500-$16,000 (53% cheaper)

Refurbished units from Germany/Japan: $18,000-$22,000

Fuel efficiency ROI: 220 hours/month users save $430 monthly

How Import Policies Affect Your Quotation

Bangladesh's 7.5% duty cut on used machinery (2023) makes imports smarter. Look at Rahim Construction Co.: They bought 3 pre-owned Atlas Copco units via Chittagong port, cutting project costs by 30%.

5 Must-Check Points Before Payment

Always verify:

Engine hours meter reading

Oil leakage history

After-sales service agreements

2024's Best Supplier Deals

Dhaka's Top 3 sellers now offer screw diesel compressor packages:

PowerTech Ltd.: 1-year warranty + free maintenance kit ($13,799)

ChinaBang Machinery: FOB Qingdao port shipments ($11,200)

Heavy Equipment BD: Rent-to-own options ($490/month)

Pro tip: Visit Narayanganj's machinery market every Thursday - local dealers often negotiate 8-12% discounts for cash purchases. For imported models, check if suppliers include HS code 84148040 clearance in their price list.

Final Thought on ROI

While new Ingersoll Rand compressors last longer, second-hand units let smaller firms bid competitively. Using a $14,500 Kaishan model could help win 2 extra contracts/year in Bangladesh's booming infrastructure sector (9.1% projected growth 2024).
