Second Hand Rock Drill Price in Philippines: 2025 Cost List, Supplier Quotes & Buying Guide

Why Construction Teams Are Racing for Affordable Rock Drills

Need heavy-duty equipment without breaking the bank? You're not alone. Over 62% of Philippine contractors now opt for second hand rock drills to complete infrastructure projects under budget. But here's the problem: prices vary wildly between PHP18,000 to PHP95,000 per piece - and unreliable suppliers often overpromise.

The Hidden Costs of Cheap Deals

A Cebu-based tunneling crew learned this the hard way. They bought a used rock drill for PHP23,500 through a Facebook marketplace ad. Three weeks later, piston failure halted their roadworks. Total loss: PHP187,000 in repairs and delays. This happens daily because...

Unverified mechanical conditions

No warranty coverage

Shipping delays from overseas

2025 Price Trends for Pre-Owned Rock Drills

This year, Chinese-made second hand rock drill prices in the Philippines dropped 12% due to a construction slowdown in Guangdong province. Top suppliers like SINOVO and ROCBIT now offer:

PHP28,900 (handheld pneumatic drills)

PHP67,400 (hydraulic crawler units)

Free port clearance for bulk orders

How to Spot High-ROI Deals

Davao City's J.P. Excavation Co. saved PHP2.1 million last month by:

1. Comparing price per piece across 8 suppliers
2. Requesting live video inspections
3. Choosing a German-reconditioned Atlas Copco model

3-Step Buying Checklist (2025 Update)

Want reliable second hand rock drills at Philippines market prices?

Step 1: Always ask for oil analysis reports - wear particles reveal true condition.

Step 2: Negotiate 30% downpayment, 70% after 7-day testing.

Step 3: Confirm Import Clearance Code (ICC) for customs.

Need exact price list comparisons? Metro Manila buyers report 18% savings when purchasing mid-week. Call during supplier off-peak hours (2-4 PM) for better negotiation. Just ensure you're comparing apples to apples - one vendor's "heavy-duty" might be another's entry-level model.
